Postal Information :

Posting under Clause 57 (7) of Post & Telegraph Guide :

The circular issued by the Presidency Postmaster, Madras, relating to the posting of articles under Clause 57 (7) of the Post & Tele. Guide, is quoted below :

“It has been brought to my notice that book-packets requiring to be posted under clause 57 (7) of Post & Telegraph Guide, do not conform to the provisions contained therein. In almost all cases, in which such articles are taxed for infringement of the said Clause, it is seen that they instead of being presented at the counter of the Post Office after drawing the attention of the Clerk, are invariably posted in the Letter box. I therefore, request that the messengers, who may be deputed to post such articles, are asked to present them at the counter of the Sorting Department, Madras G.P.O. so that taxation of articles arising out of the failure on the part of your messengersto observe the said clause, and correspondence arising out of it may be avoided.

2. In the case of franked articles, though they are also to be presented at the counter of the Post Office, it is seen, that such of those as are required to be posted under Clause 57 (7) at book-packet rates of postage, are not separated and given to the counter clerk for disposal. As this also results in taxation of articles, I request you kindly to instruct your subordinates suitably in the matter.

3. An extract of Clause 57 (7) of Post & Telegraph Guide is sent herewith for information ”

“Extract of Clause 57 (7) of P. & T. Guide : Contents : A book packet may contain documents wholly or partly printed in imitation of typewriting or reproduced from manuscript or typewritten original by any mechanical process of polygraph such as Chromography, minography provided that (i) they are handed in at the post office counter or window. (ii) the special attention of the counter window clerk is drawn to the fact that they are documents of the kind mentioned in this sub-clause, and (iii) at least 20 precisely identical copies are posted at the same time.

*Explanation :—*By “printing” is meant any species of printing easy to recognise, lithograph or any mechanical process, except the copying press and the typewriter, ordinarily used to produce a number of identical copies of written matter and easy to recognise “writing” includes typewriting and any mechanical or other process ordinarily used to produce a single document.”

Exhibitors Vs. Calcutta Corporation : Sep. '58.

An important judgment was delivered recently at the Calcutta High Court by Mr. Justice D. N. Sinha while disposing of the rules obtained by sixty seven Cinemas at Calcutta against the orders of the Calcutta Corporation enhancing their existing Cinema licence fees.

The Corporation on March 14 last passed a resolution adopting a procedure for levy and realisation of Cinema licence fees, which had the effect of increasing, by more than twenty-two times in some cases, the existing annual fee payable by cinema houses. The High Court, upholding the contention of the petitioning cinemas set aside the Corporation resolution.

The existing rates varied from Rs. 50 to Rs. 800 per year according to the rental valuation of the promises occupied by cinema houses. Under March 14 resolution of the Corporation, Cinemas were classified into three categories according to their seating capacities, and scales of fees were prescribed for each show (ranging from Rs. 5 to Rs. 15) on the basis of the category of each Cinema.

In effect, by the resolution the total amount payable by Cinema owners as license fees came to nearly Rs 18,000 for Class 'A' Cinemas (having sanctioned seats over 700 but not exceeding 1000) and Rs. 6,000 for Class 'C' cinemas (having sanctioned seats of Rs. 700 and below).

The rates prevalent prior to the said resolution were : if the rent of the premises was valued at Rs. 750 and upwards Rs. 800 per year; at Rs. 350 to Rs. 749 Rs. 400 per year; at Rs. 100 to 349 Rs. 200 per year; at Rs. 30 to Rs. 99 Rs. 100 per year and at Rs. 15 to 29 Rs. 50 per year.

Against the resolution of the Corporation and the notices of the Commissioner, two applications under Article 226 of the Constitution were moved in the High Court on behalf of the Exhibitors Syndicate (the Uttara and Sree) and the Chitrapur Cinema Calcutta, whereupon an injunction restraining the Corporation from enforcing its resolution was issued. This was followed by 65 other applications. The resolution was to come into effect from April 1, last.

PETITIONER'S CONTENTION

On behalf of the 67 petitioners it was contended that :

(i) The legislature has laid down no rule or principle as to what should be the terms of licence under section 443 of Calcutta Municipal Act and has left the matter for fixing the said terms completely in the hands of the Corporation.

(ii) Similarly, section 549 (2) of the said Act gives discretion to the respondent Corporation in fixing a scale of fees for such licence, without laying down any rational basis or principle or policy for regulating the fixation of such fees. This amounts to an unreasonable and illegal delegation of legislative function.

(iii) The legislature has not indicated in the said Act or in the schedules thereto the scale of fees payable in respect of other licences. By failing or neglecting to indicate the fees payable for licence under Section 443, the legislature has made unreasonable discrimination in regard to persons affected by Sections 443, 548 (2), the said Act contravenes Article 14 of the Constitution of India.

RIGHTS INFRINGED

(vi) Section 443 restricts the petitioner's rights of trade by making it subject to the discretion of the executive without, at the same time, formulating or laying down any basis or rational principles under which such restrictions are to be imposed. In the premises, the said Section 443, is in the nature of unreasonable fetter on the property rights and trade rights of the petitioners and is Ultra Vires of Article 19 (1) and (f) and (g) of the Constitution of India.

Delivering judgment on July 24, the judge upheld the contention of the petitioners and quashed the above resolution of March 14, so far as it purported to enhance the existing licence fees and the notices issued thereunder.

In the judgment there was no order as to the costs.

Mr. B. C. Mitra, Bar-at-Law, and Mr. Arun Kumar Mukherjee, Bar-at-Law assisted by Mukherjee and Mr. Biswas, solicitors, appeared for the petitioners.

Children's Film Festival, Madras:

Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, Vice-President of India performed on 11th October 1958, a pleasant function of inaugurating the Children's Film Festival, at the Children's Theatre in the Government Estate, Mount Road, Madras. This Festival was organised by the Film Festival Committee of the Indian Council for Child Welfare, Madras, in connection with the All India Children's Day Celebration. Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, in the course of his address said that it was acknowledged that film was a great medium of education. "There are films" he said, produced for adults only and announced so. They cannot be seen by children. But if there are special films made for children, adults may see them and there is no harm done to them. It is now the practice in many countries to produce books for children and also films and open parks, where they can play about, draw, paint and meet one another, quarrel, play hide-and-seek and again make friends. Such things are happening in our country also."

Praising the child's heart, Dr. Radhakrishnan said: "We have always held that a child's heart is the aim of every one of us, human beings. In other words, even those who are filled with punditry or law are called upon to surrender the punditry and become like little children. Even in the Upanishad the Brahmin had been called upon to give up the pride of learning and become like a little child. A great Chinese thinker has said that every genius has a child's heart to develop a kind of response to things around us—the response which a child makes."

Dr. Radhakrishnan was happy about the function and said, "You are having it in connection with our Prime Minister's birthday. The Prime Minister is one who has a child's heart, runs about the mountains of Bhutan, makes steep descent, rides on yaks and yet relaxes so far as the work is concerned and comes back to us refreshed." Recalling what he had said the other day while unveiling a portrait of Tagore in Parliament, Dr. Radhakrishnan said that "every genius, whether it is Gandhiji or Tagore or Nehru, is a compound of a man woman and child. He must have the bigger intellect of a man, if he is to be a genius. He must also have that refined sensibility and intensity of feeling of a woman and must have the perpetual wonder, which a child has. Unless you are able to combine these three things in a proper proportion you do not hit the mark of a genius."

They all knew, Dr. Radhakrishnan added, that Gandhiji was fond of children. They also knew Tagore who wrote the store of Kabuliwalla. The crystalline fragments of moonlight in his Crescent Moon had given innocent joy to millions of children not only in this country, but also the world over. "You find also in our Prime Minister," he said "that kind of combination of intellectual vigour, refined sensibility, a sense of curiosity and eagerness to probe into the secrets of the world, and whether he goes all these things are there. The difficulty is that sensibility, is sometimes exploited by grosser natures and one has to guard oneself against these dangers which people possess."

Dr. Radhakrishnan referred to the potentialities in our country for production of good children's films and said that "we have enough in our country to enthral our children Unconsciously, great ideals might be inculcated into the minds of Children. Our epic stories are full of characters which teach us to be loving even to our enemies. These are ideals which unconsciously get in the minds of children if you produce them through beautiful films. There are ever so many characters. If education consists in a 'vision of greatness' you can produce that 'vision of greatness' in the minds of the children by means of great films. But it has to be done with care and with discrimination. Your lessons must not be didactic. All films should convey information, entertainment, enlightenment and humanity. Unless the films are able to portray these different qualities they will never succeed."

"If you teach the young child," Dr. Radhakrishnan added "through films, the tendency is not to do that but to disobey that. It is essential, therefore that any lesson you wish to inculcate in children will have to be done in an unconscious way through an appeal to their sense of beauty, rhythm, music, etc.," The organisers of the Film Festival, he said, would have to choose proper films which had both educative and entertainment value.

Then Mr. C. Subramaniam, Minister for Education, who presided said that they were obliged to borrow films from "various countries because sufficient films had not been produced in India exclusively for children. He expressed the hope that the film producers would hereafter come forward to produce some films for children. The State Government had constituted a Children's Film Committee and they were trying their best to promote production of films for children.

Mrs. S. Manjubhashini, General Secretary, proposed a vote of thanks.
